Lecture:1VERB TENSE

Verbs not only express actions but also tell us the time of the action. The tense of a verb tells us when the action is, was or will be carried out.

The three simple tenses are:

Present Tense	Past Tense	Future Tense
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Verb that is happening in the currently. • Example: I Write 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Verb that has already happened a long time back. • Example: I wrote 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Verb that is about to take place in the coming time • Example: I will write

Techniques to recognize the simple tenses

Present tense: Depending on the person, the simple present tense is formed by using the root form or by adding -s or -es to the end.

First-person singular: I write

Second-person singular: You write

Third-person singular: He/she/it writes (note the -s)

Past tense: With most verbs, the past tense is formed by adding –ed:

Called liked wanted worked

But there are a lot of irregular past tense forms in English. Here are the most common irregular verbs in English, with their past tense forms:

Madhabi Sarkar

tense

Begin/began break/broke write/wrote

Future tense:The formula for the simple future is will + [root form of verb].

I will learn a new language. Jen will read that book. My brothers will sleep till noon if no one wakes them up. You will see what I mean.

What you have to do now

Write 10 sentences for each tense. Use 10 different verbs to make these sentences.

Lecture:2

THE SIMPLE PRESENT TENSE IS USED:

- To express habits, general truths, repeated actions or unchanging situations, emotions and wishes:

I smoke (habit); I work in London (unchanging situation); London is a large city (general truth)

- To give instructions or directions:

You walk for two hundred meters, then you turn left.

- To express fixed arrangements, present or future:

Your exam starts at 09.00

- To express future time, after some conjunctions: after, when, before, as soon as, until:

He'll give it to you when you come next Saturday.

THE SIMPLE PAST TENSE IS USED:

You always use the simple past when you say when something happened, so it is associated with certain past time expressions

- a definite point in time: last week, when I was a child, yesterday, six weeks ago

We saw a good film last week.

Yesterday, I arrived in Geneva.

She finished her work at seven o'clock

I went to the theatre last night

- an indefinite point in time: the other day, ages ago, a long time ago

People lived in caves a long time ago.

She played the piano when she was a child.

THE SIMPLE FUTURE TENSE IS USED:

Madhabi Sarkar

tense

- To predict a future event:

It will rain tomorrow.

- With 'you' to give orders:

You will do exactly as I say.

- With 'you' in the interrogative form, to give an invitation:

Will you come to the dance with me?

Will you marry me?

What you have to do now

As you have learned the usages of simple present, past and future tense, now write down one sentence using each given condition above.

Lecture:3

The three perfect tenses:

Perfect tense definition: The perfect tense is a verb form that indicates a complete ("perfected") action.

What is the past perfect tense: The past perfect most often expresses actions in the past that finished before another action (also in the past) started.

✓ To form the past perfect:

Subject + had + past participle of verb

✓ The past perfect is used to express:

completed action before another begins (both in past) e.g. After she had called the doctor, she felt much better about her symptoms.

What is the present perfect tense: The present perfect tense expresses actions that happened at time that is not specific and actions that started in the past but continue to the present.

✓ To form the present perfect:

Subject + has/have + past participle of verb

✓ The present perfect is used to express:

actions in the past of indefinite time

e.g. I have visited this museum.

actions that started in the past but continue to present

e.g. My father has mentioned that to her before.

What is the future perfect tense: The future perfect tense expresses actions that will be finished at some point in the future.

✓ To form the future perfect:

Subject + will have + past participle of verb

✓ The future perfect is used to express:

actions that will be finished at some point

e.g. By the time your plane lands, we will have gone to sleep.

actions that occur in the future will continue beyond a certain point in the future

e.g. He will have studied in Paris for three years this spring.

Techniques to recognize the perfect tenses

Verbs in the perfect form use a form of "have" or "had" + the past participle. (It is the form of the helping verb that indicates the tense.)

Present Perfect: I have finished my homework already.

Past Perfect: He had watched TV for an hour before dinner.

Future Perfect: Nancy will have finished by the time her parents return.

	Present perfect	Past perfect	Future perfect
Perfect tenses	I have driven in snow many times. Have/has + past participle verb	It had already snowed before I left. Had + past participle verb	It will have snowed 6 inches by the end of the day. Will have + past participle verb

What you have to do now

Write 10 sentences for each tense. Use 10 different verbs to make these sentences.
