

Chapter-4 (Introduction to population of Bangladesh)Lesson 8: Causes and Effects of Migration Discrepancy:-

The reasons behind migration are economic, social, political or demographic. Among these causes, the most remarkable ones are, man migrates---

- Hope of more income.
- Business purpose.
- Marriage.
- Higher education.
- Advanced healthcare.
- Profession of higher dignity.
- Affected by natural disaster.
- Advanced civil rights.
- Opportunities, recreation and good environment.
- Because of war.

Impacts of Migration:-

There are various types of effects of migration.

- *The areas where people migrate get expanded.
- *Density of population increases.
- *Pressure of extra population is felt at different locations.
- *Demand and price of daily commodities are increases.
- *Various social problems arise.
- *Lack of employment.
- *Problems in education sector.

Both Internal and International migration affect the population structure of the country. Lakhs of people of our country are doing jobs in various regions of the world through migration. The money sent by them is making a large contribution to our national economy.

Read the text book and answer the following questions.

1. Describe the causes of migration.
2. Discuss the impacts of migration.

Nabanita Ghosh

Teacher (BGS), Basonto, Cosmo School.