

Day 2

The definite article means clear, obvious. It tells us that the noun is specific. The speaker talks about a particular thing.

Examples:

"The car I bought broke down."

"The actors were really good."

Hena is the best football player in the school.

Definite article	Indefinite article
When we are talking about a particular thing or specific thing is called definite	When we talking abo or any group of thing;

article. We use the Example: the moon, the world, the old lady, the monkey	indefinite article. We use a or an Example: an egg, a dog, an arm chair, an ox
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

1. Write a, an and the in each space.

- a. Sam is _____ fastest runner in the school.
- b. There is _____ girl in my class who has red hair.
- c. Would you like _____ apple?
- d. Tom is _____ best football player in the school.
- e. What _____ interesting story!
- f. Football is _____ rough game.

2. Add a word from the box to fill each space. Circle the article.

egg snake present book bone dog

- a. I saw the _____ bite the man.
- b. Would you like an _____ for breakfast?

- c. Tom gave me a _____ for my birthday.
- d. A _____ was in the kennel.
- e. My dog chewed the _____ I gave it.
- f. I read a _____ yesterday.

Students will read a story aloud both (with article and without article) and they will find out the differences.

Without article	With article
One day monkey found orange and carrot in old shed. It gave orange to ape that was in tree. Then it put the carrot	One day a monkey found an orange and a carrot in an old shed. It gave the orange to an ape that was in a tree.

in empty box so it could it later. little while later hungry fox found carrot and took it to its lair under old oak tree that was growing in farmer's field.	Then it put the carrot in an empty box so it could eat later. A little while later a hungry fox found the carrot and took it to its lair under an old oak tree that was growing in a farmer's field.
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

- ✚ Answer is attached at last of the lecture sheet.
- ✚ Dear students, please learn the word meaning above and read the story again and again for a better understand. Good luck and thank you. 😊

Answers

Day 2

1. a)the (b)a/the (c)an/the(d)the (e)an (f)a
2. a. snake/the b. egg/an c. present/a d. dog/A e. bone/ the
g. book/ a