Jazam

There are many letters in Arabic which does not have Zabor, Zer or Pesh. A sign is used to pronounce this letter. This sign  is called Jazam. Other sign of Jazam is :  or  . Another name of Jazam is Sakin or Sukoon.

For example:-

Mim Nun Zabor مَنَّ = Man

Mim Nun Zer مِئِنَّ = Min

Mim Nun pesh مِّنْ = Mun

Read and write the following chart:

تَ وُ مَّ	صَ وُ مَّ	قُ لَ	كُ نَ
تَوُّ مَّ	صَوُّ مَّ	قَلُ	كَنَّ
أَكْبَ رُ	كُ رُ سِ يَ	مَ سَ جُ دُ	كُنْتُ مَّ
أَكْبَرُ	كُرْسِيَّ	مَسْجِدُ	كُنْتُمْ

Tashdid

Generally we used to pronounce two successive same letters at once in Bengali and English, we write them attached.

For example the word, Allahu. Here the letters L & L are joined together.

Like these word we also read or write:

Amma - two M together.

Makka - two K together.

Munni – two N together.

In Arabic language, we also used a special sign to pronounce two successive same letters with Harkat. The sign is as like as لّ. This sign is called Tashdid. Tashdid looks like the head of the letter س (Sin). A letter with Tashdid is pronounced twice.

For example:

Alif Mim Zabor Am, Mim Zabor Ma = Amma = أُمَّ = مَّ + مْ

Here, a Tashdid is on the letter Mim of Arabic word 'Amma' there is a Tashdid.

Alif Ba Zabor 'Ab', Ba Zabor 'Ba' = Abba = أَبَّ = بَب + بْ

Read and write the following chart with Tashdid.

ظِلٌّ	ظَنَّ	مَنَّ	إَنَّ
عَلَّمَ	سَبَّحَ	كَذَّبَ	صَدَّقَ
تَفَكَّرَ	تَعَلَّمَ	مَرَّقَ	بَلَّغَ
