Lecture Sheet of Chapter-6, Section-1 (Honesty)

Lecture Sheet -1   Date: 17/09/2020

Honesty: Honesty means always speaking the truth and living an honest life. Honesty also includes honest thinking and honest activities. It also means not to take other's things illegally.

Necessity of Honesty: The necessity of honesty is immense because-
 i) Honesty gives people respect.
 ii) Gods and goddesses are pleased with them who are honest.
 iii) It makes a person truthful and good.

Relation between honesty and religion: There is a close relation between honesty and religion because, Ishvara and gods and goddesses are pleased with them who have the quality of honesty. Honesty is a part of religion and a moral virtue.

Story of the Woodcutter and the goddess of Water: There was a woodcutter in a village and he had an iron axe. He used to cut wood everyday and by selling that wood in markets, he maintained his family.

There was a river flowing by the village. On the bank of the river there was a forest. One day, the woodcutter went in the forest to cut wood. All on a sudden, the woodcutter's iron axe fell into the river. The woodcutter broke down with worries. Because he could not cut wood without the axe and if he cannot do it daily how he could maintain his family. Then, his wife and children would remain unfed.
